'Nature in all its Diversity'

With its display entitled 'Flowers – 1,000 good reasons' in the Floral Hall (Hall 9), Landgard is showing a whole new world of blossoming, creative, useful and beautiful flowers and plants

From 17 to 26 January 2020, when winter in Berlin is still cold and grey, spring will appear in all its colours on the Berlin Exhibition Grounds. That is when Landgard and the project entitled 'Flowers – 1,000 good reasons' will let nature unfold in the shape of thousands of spring flowers and lively greenery in the Floral Hall (Hall 9) at the International Green Week 2020.

In 2020 the Floral Hall will be following a new design trend that stays true to nature in everything we do. Along with it, under the slogan of 'Nature in all its diversity', flowers and plants will be returning to their normal habitat. A many-faceted spring landscape featuring flowers, grass and shrubs will make up the central design element of the hall. Paths crossing this colourfully arranged area will lure visitors away from the bustle of the fair and let them

With its display entitled 'Flowers – 1,000 good reasons' in the Floral Hall (Hall 9), Landgard is showing a whole new world of blossoming, creative, useful and beautiful flowers and plants

From 17 to 26 January 2020, when winter in Berlin is still cold and grey, spring will appear in all its colours on the Berlin Exhibition Grounds. That is when Landgard and the project entitled 'Flowers – 1,000 good reasons' will let nature unfold in the shape of thousands of spring flowers and lively greenery in the Floral Hall (Hall 9) at the International Green Week 2020.

In 2020 the Floral Hall will be following a new design trend that stays true to nature in everything we do. Along with it, under the slogan of 'Nature in all its diversity', flowers and plants will be returning to their normal habitat. A many-faceted spring landscape featuring flowers, grass and shrubs will make up the central design element of the hall. Paths crossing this colourfully arranged area will lure visitors away from the bustle of the fair and let them enjoy floral beauty first-hand. Visitors can participate in numerous activities where they can try out their creative skills and make beautiful pieces of work to take home. Thus, together with strong partners, and with their offer of exciting activities and prize competitions, Landgard and the project entitled 'Flowers – 1,000 good reasons' will be inviting visitors to enjoy the fascination of flowers and plants in their natural habitat every day at the fair.
